Fluffy "Snow" Lynxes

Fiona is a lynx that lives in cold, snowy climates. She has soft, fluffy fur. On the mainland, lynxes live in various parts of the world, but the ones that prefer snowy climates live in places such as Canada and Siberia.

Lynxes are members of the cat family, but are twice as large as domestic cats. Some live in areas with deep snow, and they are very good swimmers.

Tink's Workshop

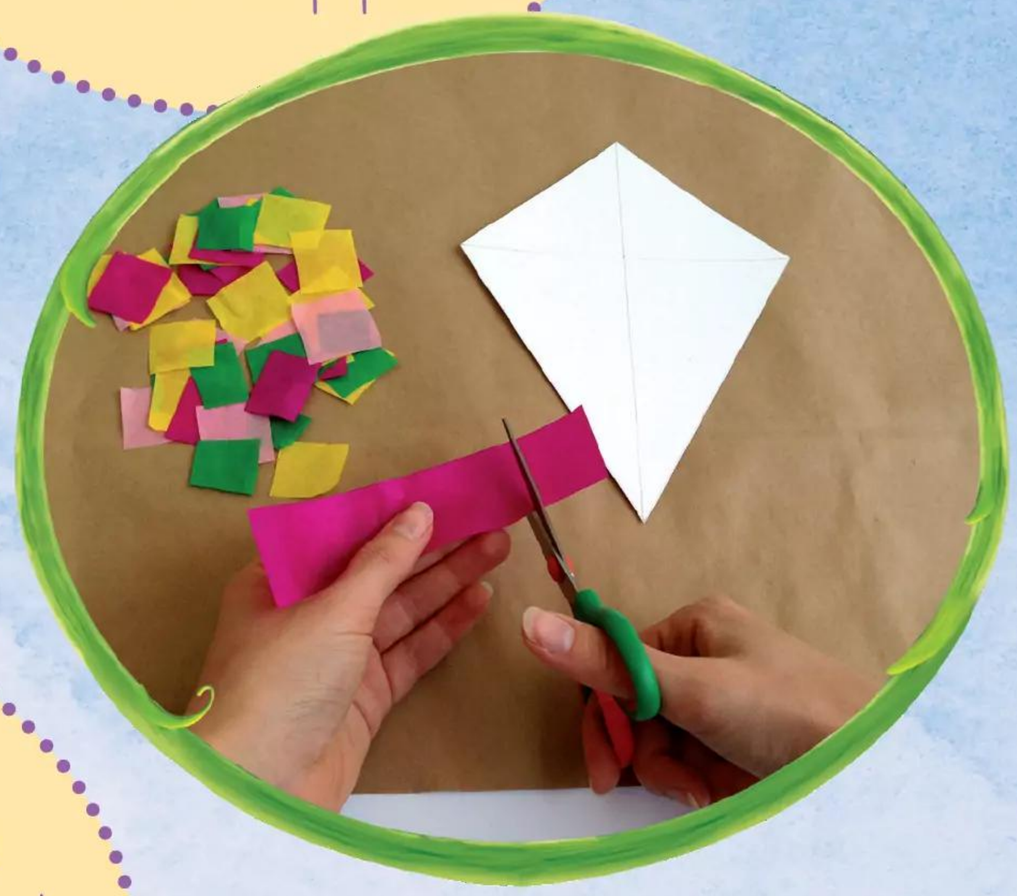
A Magical Kite

Use paper and lots of imagination to create your own fairy kite!

YOU'LL NEED:

- ★ A sheet of white cardboard
- ★ Pink, fuchsia, yellow and green tissue paper
- ★ Rope
- ★ Red, fuchsia, orange and yellow foam
- ★ A toothpick
- ★ Stapler
- ★ Glue
- ★ A flat paintbrush
- ★ Scissors

1 Use white cardboard to prepare your kite's base. It should be 20 cm high by 15 cm wide. Cut out lots of 2 x 2 cm squares from tissue paper.



2 Mix glue with some water (same quantity of both). Use the paintbrush to spread glue on the base and then attach tissue paper squares to it. Wait for it to dry then trim them with scissors.

3

Now cut a bow shape out of cardboard and use it to make the kite's ribbons out of foam. Make four ribbons of different colors and then use the toothpick to make two small holes in the middle of each one.

4

Staple a piece of rope horizontally on the kite. Then staple a long piece of rope vertically on your kite to create the kite's string.

5

Thread the vertical rope through the holes in the ribbons and... your kite is ready!
